

Contents

ix	Foreword by David T. Bailey
xvii	Acknowledgments
xxi	The Names of the Institution
1	Introduction
15	CHAPTER ONE The Beginning
51	CHAPTER TWO Defining the College's Mission
91	CHAPTER THREE Transforming Knowledge
181	CHAPTER FOUR Reaching the People
235	CHAPTER FIVE The Alumni at the Turn of the Twentieth Century
285	CHAPTER SIX Student Life
343	CHAPTER SEVEN African-American Students
355	CHAPTER EIGHT International Students

371	CHAPTER NINE Athletics
405	CHAPTER TEN The First World War Turns M.A.C into a Military Camp
417	Epilogue
423	APPENDIX ONE The Curriculum, 1925–26
437	APPENDIX TWO Comparison of Leading Industries in Michigan, 1900 and 1904
441	APPENDIX THREE Places of Residence or Death by State or Country in 1900 of M.A.C. Graduates
443	APPENDIX FOUR Places of Residence or Death in Michigan of M.A.C. Graduates in 1900
449	APPENDIX FIVE Places of Residence or Death of Graduates in 1930
453	Notes
509	Select Bibliography
523	Index