Ambiguous Justice
Native Americans and the Law in Southern California, 1848–1890

Vanessa Ann Gunther

In 1769, Spain took action to solidify control over its northern New World territories by establishing a series of missions and presidios in what is now modern California. To populate these remote establishments, the Spanish crown relied on Franciscan priests, whose role it was to convince the Native Californian population to abandon their traditional religious practices and adopt Catholicism. Bibliography, index. Paper, 256 pp., 0-87013-779-4 (978-0-87013-779-2), $29.95

Akak'stiman
A Blackfoot Framework for Decision-Making

Reg Crowshoe, Dr. Sybille Mannes Schmidt

Crowshoe and Mannes Schmidt examine the two health structures that co-exist on the Peigan reserve in southern Alberta; one based on traditional Blackfoot culture, the other on Western European theories of health and healing. Both are practiced on the reserve today, yet only the western approach is acknowledged and endorsed by the Canadian government. Elders on the Peigan reserve have contributed to Akak'stiman through interviews and discussions with the authors. Their oral evidence is complemented by use of historical documents and accounts. Published by the University of Calgary Press. Paper, 133 pp., 1-55238-044-0, $19.95

Alberta Elders' Cree Dictionary
alperta ohci kehtehayak nehiyaw

Ancestral Portraits

Frederick R. McDonald

Ancestral Portraits is a celebration of a rich Cree heritage, a retrospective of the art and life of Frederick R. McDonald, one of the most exciting Alberta First Nations artists working today. With one foot in the world of his ancestral peoples and the other in the realm of contemporary Canadian society, McDonald paints from a unique perspective, using his art to convey a First Nations message to viewers and readers. 50 images. Published by the University of Calgary Press. Cloth, 120 pp., 1-55238-064-5, $29.95

Anishinaubae Thesaurus

Basil H. Johnston

The Anishinaubae language (of the Chippewa/Ojibwe) has a beauty in the spoken word, a deliberate rhythm, simplicity, and mysterious second meanings. This thesaurus contains a sampling of the 400,000 words that comprise the Anishinaubae language; a practical reference tool for teachers, translators, interpreters, and orthographers. Glossary, appendices. Available in December 2006.

Fish in the Lakes, Wild Rice, and Game in Abundance
Testimony on Behalf of Mille Lacs
Ojibwe Hunting and Fishing Rights

James McClurken, et al.

On August 13, 1990, members of the Mille Lacs Band of Ojibwe filed a lawsuit against the State of Minnesota for interfering with the hunting, fishing, and gathering rights that had been guaranteed to them in an 1837 treaty with the United States. In order to interpret the treaty, courts had to consider historical circumstances, intent, and the treaty's implementation. In 1999, Justice Sandra Day O'Connor delivered the United States Supreme Court decision upholding Mille Lacs rights.

Night Spirits:
The Story of the Relocation of the Sayisi Dene

Ila Bussidor, Üstün Bilgen-Reinart
Nominated: 1998 Manitoba Book of the Year Award

The Manitoba Sayisi Dene led an independent life, following the caribou herds and having little contact with white society. In 1956, an arbitrary government decision to relocate them catapulted the Sayisi Dene into the 20th century. In Night Spirits, the survivors, including those who were children at the time of the move and the few remaining elders, offer a stark, brutally honest account of the near-destruction of the Sayisi Dene. Nominated for 1998 Manitoba Book of the Year Award.

New Faces in the Fur Trade
Selected Papers of the Seventh North American Fur Trade Conference, Halifax, Nova Scotia, 1995

Edited by Jo-Anne Fiske, Susan Sleeper-Smith, William Wicken

New Faces of the Fur Trade is a collection of 15 essays that question the traditional focus of fur trade literature and suggest that there are new ways to look at the fur trade. Many focus on subjects and themes that either have been formerly overlooked or have been introduced and then neglected. This volume readdresses some of those omissions. Notes, maps, photographs, tables. Cloth, 265 pp., 0-87013-434-5, $49.95

Nunavik
Inuit-Controlled Education in Arctic Quebec
