Rhetoric

A Rhetorical History of the United States
 Significant Moments in American Public
 Discourse, Volumes I, VI, and VII

Volume I: Rhetoric, Religion, and the Roots of Identity in British Colonial America

Edited by James R. Andrews
 Volume 1 probes formal and ideational aspects of colonial rhetoric to illuminate textual/contextual interactions and their enduring implications for America rhetoric. Notes, references, index.
 Library binding, 416 pp., 0-87013-782-4 (978-0-87013-782-4), $189.00

Volume VI: Rhetoric and Reform in the Progressive Era

Edited by J. Michael Hogan
 "...captures the shared energy and the compelling philosophies of the period."—Journal of the Gilded Age and Progressive Era
 Notes, bibliography, index.
 Library binding, 700 pp., 0-87013-637-2 (978-0-87013-637-5), $189.00

Volume VII: American Rhetoric in the New Deal
 Era, 1932–1945

Edited by Thomas W. Benson
 Some historians use New Deal to designate the intense period of domestic reform legislation of the first Franklin Roosevelt administration, 1933–37. Others confine discussion to the legislation of 1933 or 1935. These essays look forward to the rhetoric of the prewar approach to and engagement in World War II. Notes, references, index.
 Library binding, 512 pp., 0-87013-767-0 (978-0-87013-767-9), $189.00

Angelina Grimké

Rhetoric, Identity, and the Radical Imagination

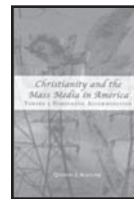

Stephen H. Browne
 Abolitionist, women's rights activist, and social reformer Angelina Grimké (1805-79) was among the first women in American history to seize the public stage in pursuit of radical social reform. She crossed the wires of race, gender, and power, and produced explosions that lit up the world of antebellum reform. Rhetoric and Public Affairs Series. Notes, bibliography, index.
 Cloth, 224 pp., 0-87013-530-9 (978-0-87013-530-9), $50.00

Bending Spines

The Propagandas of Nazi Germany and the German Democratic Republic

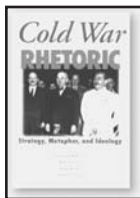

Randall L. Bytwerk
Bending Spines examines the full range of persuasive techniques used by Nazi Germany and the German Democratic Republic, concluding that both systems failed in part because they expected more of their propaganda than it was able to deliver. Rhetoric & Public Affairs Series. Bibliography, Index.
 Cloth, 228 pp., 0-87013-709-3 (978-0-87013-709-9), $59.95

Christianity and the Mass Media in America

Toward a Democratic Accommodation

Quentin J. Schultze
 In the United States, the major disputes between religion and the media usually have involved Christian churches or parachurch ministries, on the one hand, and secular media on the other. Schultze shows how religion and the media have borrowed each other's rhetoric. In the process, they have also helped to keep each other honest, pointing out respective foibles and pretensions. Rhetoric & Public Affairs Series. Index, bibliography.
 Cloth, 512 pp., 0-87013-696-8 (978-0-87013-696-2), $84.95

Cold War Rhetoric

Strategy, Metaphor, and Ideology

Martin J. Medhurst, Robert L. Ivie, Robert L. Scott, Philip Wander

Cold War Rhetoric is the first book in over twenty years to bring a sustained rhetorical critique to bear on central texts of the Cold War, including speeches by Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy, the Murrow-McCarthy confrontation on CBS, the speeches and writings of peace advocates, and the recurring theme of unAmericanism as it has been expressed in various media throughout the Cold War years. Illustrations, notes, bibliography, index.

Paper, 272 pp., 0-87013-442-6 (978-0870134425), $22.95

Darwinism, Design, & Public Education

John Angus Campbell, Stephen C. Meyer

From the Scopes Trial in 1925 through the action of the Kansas board of education, the teaching of evolution in public schools has been a flashpoint in American education. Although its implications are not yet fully evident, the advent of a modern scientific theory of intelligent design (ID), and a scholarly research community advancing this theory (the ID movement) has reenergized and is now redefining the character of this controversy. Darwinism, Design, and Public Education examines ID as a science, a philosophy, and a movement for educational reform.

Everyday Subversion

From Joking to Revolting in the German Democratic Republic

Kerry Kathleen Riley

Working from firsthand interviews and primary source materials, Riley provides a new way of looking at the East German revolution in an English-language rhetorical history, as well as an analysis of GDR grassroots persuasion that draws on research (especially German-language research) from several disciplines. Rhetoric & Public Affairs Series.

Cloth, 352 pages, 0-87013-801-4 (978-0-87013-801-0), $69.95

Frederick Douglass

Freedom's Voice, 1818-1845

Gregory P. Lampe

A chronicle of Douglass's preparation for a career in oratory, his emergence as an abolitionist lecturer in 1841, and his development and activities as a public speaker and reformer from 1841 to 1845. Included is a complete itinerary of Douglass's oratorical activities, correcting errors and omissions in previously published works, as well as two newly discovered complete speech texts, published for the first time. Rhetoric & Public Affairs Series. Notes, bibliography, index.

Cloth, 350 pp., 0-87013-485-X (978-0-87013-485-2), $45.00

General Eisenhower

Ideology and Discourse

Ira Chernus

Chernus has created one of the first detailed studies of Eisenhower's ideology and rhetoric from the formative years of the Cold War, showing how words and ideas fostered a conservative culture of nationalism and fear.

Rhetoric & Public Affairs Series.

Notes, bibliography, Index.

Cloth, 480 pp., 0-87013-616-X (978-0-87013-616-X), $59.95

In the Wake of Violence

Image and Social Reform

Cheryl R. Jorgensen-Earp

This book explores the immediate and longer-term aftermath of violence committed by independent radicals involved in single-issue movements—the arson of a Vail ski resort by environmentalists, the murder of Dr. John Britton by an anti-abortionist activist, and the torching of a University of California research laboratory by animal rights activists among them—to discover how the perpetrators of the violence and reformers involved in their movements rhetorically frame the violent act for a potentially outraged public. Notes, bibliography, Index. June 2008. Rhetoric & Public Affairs Series.

Cloth, 416 pages, 978-0-87013-821-8 (0-87013-821-9), $59.95

Judging the Supreme Court

Constructions of Motives in Bush v. Gore

Clarke Rountree

This volume questions the motives of Supreme Court justices in the Supreme Court's intervention in the presidential election of 2000, and its subsequent decision in favor of George W. Bush. In Bush v. Gore, Rountree concludes, the judges of the majority opinion were not motivated by judicial concerns about law and justice, but rather by their own political and personal motives. Rhetoric & Public Affairs Series. Notes, references, index.

Cloth, 640 pp., 0-87013-809-X (978-0-87013-809-6), $79.95

Malcolm X

Inventing Radical Judgment

Robert E. Terrill

Winner: Kohrs-Campbell Prize in Rhetorical Criticism

Malcolm X, Inventing Radical Judgment explores the interpretive strategies presented in key texts from the history of African-American protest, establishing a spectrum against which Malcolm's oratory can be assessed. Rhetoric & Public Affairs Series.

Metaphorical World Politics

Edited by Francis A. Beer, Christ'l De Landtsheer
Scholars usually study world politics embedded in so-called "facts." Metaphorical World Politics shows that facts are misleading in their compactness, are often meaningless, that metaphors in contrast are energetic processors of meaning, and that facts in world politics are nothing more than weak emulsions of metaphor. Rhetoric & Public Affairs Series. Charts, index.

Paper, 288 pp., 0-87013-726-3 (978-0-87013-726-6), $29.95

Old Hopes for a New Place

The Legacy of Arend D. Lubbers at Grand Valley State University

Edited by Stephen Rowe
"I have known... Lubbers since my days in Congress. A remarkable story of development and excellence has unfolded in my own town...Lubbers's speeches capture its essence. Lubbers is clear, accessible, enjoyable — and very helpful in his perspective on education and public life. I heartily recommend this book!" — President Gerald R. Ford Photographs, index.

The Character of Justice

Rhetoric, Law, and Politics in the Supreme Court Confirmation Process

Trevor Parry-Giles

Winner: 2007 National Communication Association Diamond Anniversary Book Award

Throughout American history, Supreme Court nominations attracted little public attention. The rancorous public hearings that characterize contemporary confirmation struggles were unheard of prior to the twentieth century. Today, except for presidential campaigns, no single constitutional event produces more controversy and interest than the nomination of a Supreme Court Justice. Parry-Giles examines some controversial and ideologically meaningful Supreme Court nominations from 1916 through 1987: Louis D. Brandeis, Charles Evans Hughes, John J. Parker, Thurgood Marshall, Clement F. Haynsworth Jr., G. Harrold Carswell, and Robert Bork. Rhetoric & Public Affairs Series. Index.

Cloth, 256 pp., 0-87013-769-7 (978-0-87013-769-3), $64.95

The Lyceum and Public Culture in the Nineteenth-Century United States

Angela G. Ray

Winner of 4 awards: Rhetoric Society of America 2006 Book Award; National Communication Association (NCA) 2006 James A. Winans-Herbert A. Wichelns Memorial Award for Distinguished Scholarship in Rhetoric and Public Address; NCA 2006 Diamond Anniversary Book Award; 2006 NCA Marie Hochmuth Nichols Award.

The history of the lyceum illustrates a process of expansion, diffusion, and eventual commercialization. Ray argues that the lyceum contributed to the creation of an American "public" at a time when the country experienced a rapid change in land area, immigration, and revolutions in social roles, transportation, and communication. Illustrations, appendices, index.

Cloth, 320 pp., 0-87013-745-X (978-0-87013-745-7), $79.95

The Political Style of Conspiracy

Chase, Sumner, and Lincoln

Michael William Pfau

By examining their mainstream texts, Pfau reveals that, in addition to the "paranoid style" of conspiracy rhetoric that inhabits the margins of political life, Lincoln, Chase, and Sumner also engaged in a distinctive form of conspiracy rhetoric that is often found at the center of mainstream American society and politics. Rhetoric & Public Affairs Series. Bibliography, index.

Cloth, 240 pp., 0-87013-760-3 (978-0-87013-760-X), $59.95

The Reconstruction Desegregation Debate

The Policies of Equality and the Rhetoric of Place, 1870-1875

Kirt H. Wilson

Wilson examines Reconstruction's desegregation debate to explain how it represented an important movement in the evolution of US race relations: To what degree were African Americans "equal" to white Americans, and how should this equality be implemented in law? Rhetoric & Public Affairs Series. Index, notes, bibliography.

The Rise and Decline of an Alliance

Cuba and African American Leaders in the 1960s

Ruth Reitan

"The Cubans certainly believed there could be a U.S. Revolution, and the Panthers believed we were the vanguard action group that would lead... Cubans never argued with us about our vanguard role. There was no time for arguments." -- Eldredge Cleaver Index, bibliography.

Truman and the Hiroshima Cult

Robert P. Newman

President Truman's decision to use atomic weapons on Japanese cities was not a "racist act," nor a calculated political maneuver to threaten Stalin's Eastern hegemony. Newman argues that Truman made a sensible military decision and was concerned with ending a devastating and costly war as quickly as possible. Index.

Cloth, 287 pp., 0-87013-403-5 (978-0-87013-403-6), $38.95

Visions of Poverty

Welfare Policy and Political Imagination

Robert Asen

President Clinton signed welfare reform legislation in 1998, repealing the principal federal program for monetary assistance to poor families, Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC), causing a retrenchment era in 1980s welfare policy. Rhetoric and Public Affairs Series.
